

CONTENTS

Foreword. Lauri Tabur, Editor-in-Chief	7
Small State Performance in the EU Decision Making Process: Case of the IT-Agency Establishment to Estonia	13
Ketlin Jaani-Vihalem, Ramon Loik
Introduction	17
Set of Major Aims for the EU Internal Security Domain	18
Theoretical Perception About IT-Agency Establishment	21
Estonia's National Decision-Making in EU Justice and Home Affairs	26
Opportunities for Small Countries to Promote Their Interests	29
Stimulus for Creation of the IT-Agency	32
Estonia's Capacity to Realise Its Interests on the EU Level	39
Conclusions	47
References	52
The Relationships of the Willingness for the Defence of Estonia Among Upper Secondary School Students with the Subject 'National Defence' Taught at School	61
Mari-Liis Mänd, Shvea Järvet
Introduction	63
Theoretical Treatment of Security Theories and Defence Willingness	65
Estonian National Defence	68
Survey Methodology	73
The Results of the Survey	76
Summary	85
References	87
Changes in Framing Drug Issues by the Estonian Print Press in the Last Two Decades	91
Marianne Paimre, PhD
Introduction	93
Media Framing	95
Method and Sample	97

Changing Framework in Representing Drug Issues	98
Beginning of the 1990's: Addiction as a Distant Problem	99
Emergence of Criminal Justice Framed in the Mid-1990's	100
Drugs Acquired a Wider Framework by the Turn of the Millennium	101
Addicts as Threat to 'Us' in the 2000's	103
Conclusions and Discussion	105
Illustrations	108
References	110
Will Efficient Punishment Please Step Forth!	115
Indrek Saar, PhD
Introduction	117
Analytical Framework For Optimising Punishment	120
Optimisation of Monetary Punishment	126
Optimisation of Non-Monetary Punishment	137
Conclusion	145
References	147
Confidence and Trust in Criminal Justice Institutions: Lithuanian Case	153
Aleksandras Dobryninas, Anna Drakšienė, Vladas Gaidys, Eglė Vileikienė, Laima Žilinskienė
Introduction	155
Theoretical Aspects of Confidence in Criminal Justice	159
Empirical Aspects of Confidence in Lithuanian Criminal Justice	166
Feelings of Safety and Confidence	166
Confidence in CJ Institutions	170
Confidence and Victimisation Experience	173
Confidence and Punishment System	177
General Conclusions	183
References	186
Issues of the Victimisation Experience and Fear of Crime in Lithuania in the Context of Restorative Justice	189
Ilona Michailovič, PhD
Introduction	191
The Respondents' Feeling of Safety and the Fear of Crime	193
Criminal Victimisation Experience	197
Restorative Outcomes for Victims	200
Conclusion	204
Summary	205
References	207
Editorial Policy and Disclaimer	211